THE GAME

Canadian Moose is abundant in our part of the world. Our moose average in the 50" class and the success rate is 95% and above.

Alaska-Yukon Moose are found in our four Yukon locations, this species averages 61". These moose are best hunted in September and October when their antlers are out of velvet. We can boast of an excellent success rate. On the average hunt it is not unusual to encounter several bulls giving the hunter the opportunity to select a fine trophy.

Mountain Caribou is hunted in August and September. These majestic animals are the largest species of Caribou—with Boone & Crockett Caribou harvested each year.

Elk — One of the best areas to hunt trophy elk during the bugle season, our elk population is continuing to increase and trophy quality is excellent. Only 6x6 or better bulls are harvested with an average score of 300 Boone and Crockett points.

Rocky Mountain Goat are abundant in our British Columbia area. We can boast of 100% success with these species for the last three years.

Dall Sheep — One of North America's finest trophies are plentiful. The rams in this area are noted for having heavy based horns and large growth periods between their annual rings. Over the years a number of rams from this area have qualified for the Boone and Crockett record book. Not only do we offer clients large curl rams but also a high density of rams are found in these locations. The elevation ranges from 3,500 to 7,000 feet.

Stone Sheep — one of North America's most sought after trophies— are hunted in the Prophet and Muskwa Drainages. The rams in this area have continually produced top record book trophies, including the Chadwick Ram.

The Grizzly Bears in this area are considered mountain grizzly but the coastal influence contributes to the large sizes, up to 9 feet. We offer spring hunts and fall hunts in conjunction with either sheep or moose.

Continental Black Bears are found throughout the area on the rivers and lakes at the lower elevations. A variety of colors including cinnamon, brown and black have been taken.

Big Game Season in Northern British Columbia and the Yukon runs from August 1st through October 31st. Each hunt is five, seven, 10 or 14-days long. This does not include traveling days. Hunting in early August are mainly Stone Sheep and Dall Sheep, however, the hunter can also collect Wolf if the chance should arise. Elk and Moose season opens August 15th and Caribou September 1st.

HUNTING METHODS

In our Yukon and Northern British Columbia properties, the majority of our hunting is done on horseback with some hunting being conducted by boat and backpacking. We have a string of reliable horses, well adapted to the mountainous terrain. A guide skilled at stalking game, handling horses and caring for trophies, accompanies each hunter. All hunts are one on one.

In most cases, hunters and their guides operate from spike camps cabins or tents away from base camp. This is accomplished easily with sturdy horses equipped with the best of saddles and pack gear; allowing the hunter to cover more ground and increasing his chances of collecting a trophy animal.
